WASHINGTON CITY.

A Duel Expected.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—As Congressman Blackburn is known to be a man of courage and is supposed to believe in the code, it is thought by many of his friends that a duel is imminent between himself and Gen. Burbridge. A certain Dr. Owsley, of Kentucky, has been here for some time trying to secure an appointment in one of the departments. Among others whom he interested in his case was Gen. Burbridge, not knowing there had been for many years an unfriendly feeling between Burbridge and Blackburn. Dr. Owsley called upon the latter and mentioned to Blackburn that Burbridge was urging his appointment. Dr. Owsley was astonished to hear Mr. Blackburn, in his characteristically vigorous language denounce Burbridge as a traitor and one who had reddened the soil of Kentucky with the blood of his neighbors and friends. Dr. Owsley reports Blackburn as having used other language which is deemed offensive. He said to Mr. Blackburn that he had not called to hear his friends abused and he immediately quitted Mr. Blackburn's house. Dr. Owsley repeated the conversation to Burbridge, who is a man of courage and a Kentuckian, said to be a believer of the code. Burbridge wrote a note demanding an explanation or apology and the note is said to be couched in the language of the code. It was delivered to a friend, as understood, to be handed to Mr. Blackburn. The congressman had, however, gone to Kentucky. Owsley is reported to have followed him. One of the Kentucky members said to-night that Blackburn will, if he answers the note at all, simply reiterate what he said to Dr. Owsley and take his chances, as his political ambition will hardly permit a duel. The bad feeling between Blackburn and Burbridge is said to arise from the fact that the latter went into the union army and was assigned to the duty of preserving peace and putting to route confederates in a most intensely rebel section of Kentucky. Gen Burbridge did his duty thoroughly. The region was that of his old home and Mr. Blackburn has felt that a man who could make war upon his neighbors was not deserving the respect of people of that region of whom he (Blackburn) was one.

A Chance for Investigation.

A Washington special to the Commercial Observer says: The attention of congress is to be called at a very early day to what is believed to be a rich mine for investigation in the office of the comptroller of currency, in connection with the settlement of affairs of insolvent national banks. It is the common talk in the treasury department that there has been a great deal of money spent in winding up these banks and that certain individuals have profited largely at the expense of depositors and stockholders. If the figures could be ascertained it would be found that large sums of money have been paid to receivers of these banks in the way of compensation, and that certain lawyers and ex-congressmen now practicing in Washington have also been paid fat fees for alleged legal services in winding up banks, instead of the service being required of some of the law officers of the government, whose time and services are paid for to look after its interests under the law. It appears that the comptroller has a right to decide what expenses shall be incurred in connection with the winding up of banks, and that in exercising this legal right that officer caused some extravagant sums to be paid, under the head of expenses, to prominent politicians as well as lawyers for legal assistance. The law also gives the comptroller authority to dispose of bonds belonging to insolvent banks at private sale, and it is strongly suspected that in the case of nearly every national bank that has failed bonds have been sold privately to one particular bank in New York at prices affording a good profit; in fact, it is said in the treasury department that there has been favoritism in the matter, and that the comptroller has given one particular bank advantages over another to enable it to reap a good harvest out of the failures that have occurred. If all stories, or even part of those circulated, are true, there is a fine chance for some honest reformer work in the comptroller's office.

Nevada's Growth Backwards.

The Star this evening makes the following editorial remarks, which are of interest as showing the drift of eastern public sentiment on the question of admitting various territories as states: Just at present all the states and territories of the union are increasing in population and wealth, with the single exception of Nevada. Even Alaska is making some progress, while Nevada is at a standstill, and her condition and prospects indicate retrogression rather than progression. Counting Chinese and Indians the census of last year could only make out a population of 62,265. The silver mines, which attracted nearly all the population, white and Chinese, are played out. They have been worked at an annual loss for several years. The soil is sterile, unproductive and unprofitable, but Nevada has been invested with the rights, powers, and privileges of a state and, cannot be deprived of them or any portion of them, without her consent. Those who choose to remain as citizens, no matter how few they may be, will never of course consent to strip Nevada of her sovereign rights. Congress should learn a lesson from the admission of Nevada, which is confessedly nothing more than a "rotten borough" politically, and hesitate before making any more new states for political purposes.

Opposed to Sargent.

A story is in circulation here to-day to the effect that the California congressional delegation are opposed to Sargent's appointment as secretary of the interior and that leading members of the delegation went to New York this week to urge the president to appoint Gen. James A. Williamson, of Iowa, who according to the story will in all probability be given the desired cabinet position at an early day. It is added too, that a California man will be made governor of Arizona; that the Iowa people are willing to have Secretary Kirkwood replaced by ex-Commissioner Williamson and that thus an amicable settlement of the whole matter has been effected. As the story may have already reached the Pacific coast it seems worth while to remark that as far as the California delegation are concerned there is no truth in it whatever.

General Rosecrans' Vanity.

The National Republican to-day prints the following: General Rosecrans, in his autobiography, in the congressional directory just published, attempts by innuendo to slur Generals McClellan and Grant. He says he was second in command to General McClellan in West Virginia, his brigade winning the battle of Rich mountain, which established the supremacy of the union in West Virginia and won the battle of Corinth, October 3d and 4th, 1862, and pursuing the enemy until recalled by Gen. Grant, who was at Jackson, Tenn., seventy miles away. The Republican adds, it is easy to understand that the jealousy created by Gen. Grant's glorious victory on the field where he had met a disastrous defeat, caused Gen. Rosecrans to attempt to dim the lustre of Gen. Grant, but what motive, other than overweaning vanity, could lead Gen. Rosecrans to essay to detract from the faded laurels of Gen. McClellan.

Star Route Matters.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—A special from Philadelphia says Wm. A. Cook, assistant to attorney-general in the star route cases, and Mr. Gibson, special attorney, were in the city yesterday in consultation with Attorney-General Brewster. Cook says after the Guiteau case several postal suits will come up for trial. Cook feels satisfied the government evidence is full and sufficient to convict contractors as charged. The report which Gibson recently published containing damaging evidence against former officials in connection with star route contracts was correct in all material points, and satisfactory to the authorities. Attorney-General Brewster leaves for Washington this week, and will enter upon official duties Monday.

An Important Measure.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The World's Washington special says: Among important measures which will be early presented for consideration of congress is the inter-state commerce bill, which bears the name of Reagan, of Texas. Reagan says he became a member of this congress chiefly for the purpose of using his bill relating to this subject. He has already re-introduced his inter-state commerce bill and its counterpart has been introduced in the senate by Cook, of Texas. Page, of California, chairman of the committee of the house on commerce, has announced himself as in favor of this measure, and several of his associates in the committee on commerce are known to be also favorable to the passage essentially of the Reagan bill.

Cabinet Guesses.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The Post's Washington correspondent says: The Iowa delegation are working as hard as possible for the nomination of ex-Land Commissioner Williamson for secretary of the interior. Persons who have seen the president since he has been in New York are inclined to believe Sargent will be nominated. Boutwell's friends say the president tendered the navy portfolio to him and he declined it, preferring his present office.

A Mining Decision.

The Graphic has the following Washington special: The acting attorney general, on the 24th inst., in an opinion addressed to the president and by him referred to the department of the interior, provides that when a mining claim on a lode has inception prior to location of a town site, and the mining claimant is possessed and can maintain right of possession in accordance with other mineral land laws, or a reservation in patent for such mining claims should be inserted in favor of a town claimant or occupant. This opinion has been adopted by the secretary of the interior.

Bullion for the Mints.

Two million dollars worth of silver bullion having already been purchased and delivered at various mints during the present month, the treasury department has rejected all offers received yesterday except 40,000 ounces for the mint at New Orleans. Director Burchard has sent Preston, of the mint bureau, to New York city to supervise the weighing and transfer of bullion and coin in the assay office to the newly appointed superintendent.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—The usual new year's order has been issued by General Sherman and Secretary Hunt directing army and navy officers in Washington to assemble in full uniform at the war and navy departments at 11:30 A. M., to pay respects to the president.

Secretary Kirkwood has received from the mayor of Caldwell, Kansas, a telegram complaining that the desperadoes who raided Caldwell have taken refuge in the Indian territory, and asking the secretary to have them removed by the military. In reply the secretary states that steps will be taken to arrest the guilty parties if they can be found; but suggests that border counties of Kansas should consider themselves interested in discouraging all attempts to make the Indian territory a rendezvous for outlaws.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Expedition Ordered Back.

BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 30.—The expedition which was organized at Valparaiso for the capture of Arequipa, Peru, has been countermanded.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Bids for Printing.

OLYMPIA, Dec. 30.—Bids for printing the code of Washington Territory were opened by Secretary Owings to-day and the printing awarded to C. B. Bagley of Olympia. The bids were: Bagley, $135 copies; Bancroft & Company, 4000, and Rodebaugh & Company, 100.

THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

Prosecution Has Its Last Witness on the Stand.

DR. GRAY DAMAGES GUITEAU'S INSANITY PLEA VERY SERIOUSLY.

The Prisoner said the President would not have been Shot had he Got the Paris Consulate—A Tiresome Trial Nearly Ended.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Guiteau was led into court by the bailiff. As he passed the table at which his counsel sat he paused a moment and whispered to Scoville. "If you will only keep quiet to-day, I will laugh this case out of court."

As soon as he reached the dock he shouted out, "Some leading papers in America consider me the greatest fellow they have met in some time. At 8 o'clock last night I received a telegram, which I will read for the edification of the audience and the American people:

Mr. Charles J. Guiteau, Washington: All Boston sympathizes with you. You ought to be president.
A HOST OF ADMIRERS."

Pausing a moment he branched off in a rambling harangue, quoting scripture and comparing himself to the "meek and lowly Jesus," who used plain language though sometimes severe. "I have been accused of using too harsh language," he added," but I take my pattern from the Saviour of mankind. I shall submit my name to the next republican convention. I shall expect to be before it. There are only two men in the country who want me hung. One is Judge Porter, who expects to get $5000 from the government if I am convicted; and the other Corkhill, who expects to get bounced, and who knows I am the cause of it."

Counsel for the prosecution having entered, Dr. Kempster took the stand and Scoville resumed his cross-examination.

Witness did not believe in temporary insanity in the sense that persons could be insane and wholly recover from it in an hour. Witness was asked if he believed Sickles was sane or insane when he shot Key and replied: "I think he was sane, sir."

Guiteau—The jury did not agree with you, sir; they thought he was insane.

Upon witness leaving the stand Corkhill announced he had but one more witness to introduce on the part of the government. He would like to hear from Scoville as to how much time he might want to consume upon surrebuttal, that some idea may be had how much longer this long drawn out trial will continue.

Scoville replied—We have some witnesses whose names have been presented since we closed our case, and I shall ask the court to permit us to have them sworn. Our reason will be upon the ground of newly discovered evidence material to the case. I shall only ask your honor to allow me to ask a few questions of these witnesses relative to independent facts not heretofore known to me.

Corkhill—"We would like to know what you expect to prove?"

Scoville—"We have evidence to offer to find out the state of prisoner's mind just before the shooting."

Davidge—"Could you give us an idea how much time you will want upon rebuttal?"

Scoville—"Several days, and probably all next week."

Davidge—"We must object, your honor, to reopening this case."

Scoville insisted he did not desire to delay the trial or consume the time of the court, but prosecution had consumed weeks with these expert witnesses, meeting with them nightly and conferring with them in preparation of this case, and he did not propose to be cut short in the matter of time. He would renew, however, his proposition that the jury be allowed to separate and go to their homes, relying upon their honor and integrity.

Guiteau said: "I agree with that too. Your honor, they are high-toned, honorable men, and I am not afraid to trust them anywhere. The American people don't want me hanged anyhow, and the best thing this prosecution can do is to dismiss the indictment and let us all go home."

Judge Porter, turning towards the dock, called attention to the outbursts of the prisoner and intimated if they were to continue, he must request the dock moved to the further corner of the room where at least the prisoner could not disturb the jury. I do not ask, he added, for immediate action, your honor.

Guiteau (sneeringly)—Oh, you don't, Mr. Judge Porter?"

Scoville—I wish Judge Porter would insert his motions when he desires argument or act upon them, and not be continually making these little speeches to the jury.

Judge Porter—As I have an undoubted right to do.

The question of permitting the jury to disband, was again raised, but was dismissed by the foreman announcing they preferred not to separate, provided they could have reasonable opportunity for exercise and fresh air.

Corkhill proceeded to reply to what he termed counsel's aspersions upon distinguished medical gentlemen who did honor to the state. He would repel the assertion that they met nightly to weave meshes about this criminal. The prisoner himself had woven the meshes that were fast enclosing him, and only two men, and they spawns of the medical profession, who could not even acknowledge that they believed in a God, had been found who would under oath declare their belief in the prisoner's insanity.

Scoville replied to Corkhill and surprised everyone by making one of the best and most impressive speeches that had been heard in the court room since the opening of the trial. In earnest language he vindicated the conduct of defense and severely rebuked the course of the district attorney in his "unseemly efforts to muzzle and drive defense from the court." Some manifestations of applause followed the conclusion of his speech, but it was quickly checked by the court.

Dr. John T. Gray, medical superintendent of the New York lunatic asylum, took the stand. Witness had made the study of insanity his business since 1850, and in that time treated or investigated 1200 cases. He had never seen a single instance where the only indication of insanity was an exhibition of immorality or wickedness. He did not believe in what has been called "moral insanity." It was impossible to discover mental unity so as to locate the impairment of moral nature that was not accompanied by intellectual deterioration. Insanity in itself had no more tendency to excite crime than neuralgia or any other disease. It puts nothing new into a man's nature. It only perverts what is already there. Witness, at some length classified the various groups of insanity that had come under his observation and described the various phases and peculiarities of each. He did not believe any type of insanity exists outside of asylums that has not its prototype in asylums. Dr. Gray gave details of his examination and talk with the prisoner. He had asked Guiteau whether he would have shot the president during the time he was reflecting on removing him, if the president had offered him the Paris consulship. Guiteau answered, "Well, that would have settled the matter. I should have taken the position."

Guiteau called out from the dock, "I said if he had offered it to me any time before the 1st of June. If he had offered it afterwards it wouldn't have made the slightest difference."

Witness asked Guiteau how he came to shoot the president. Guiteau answered, "I came to the conclusion the political situation justified it. I gradually became convinced of this and resolved on his removal."

Guiteau shouted, "That knocks your Paris consulate and shows there was no malice in it; not an element of murder but political necessity.

Witness said he then asked how he reached the conclusion to remove the president and Guiteau replied: "If you will read the papers of May and June you will find exactly what the political situation was, and will perhaps appreciate what I mean by political necessity." Witness asked him if his alleged inspiration came as a vision, voice, or direct command. He said "No, it came into my head as a conception, and I reflected on it until I resolved it was justified by the situation." Witness asked the prisoner how this accorded with this theory of inspiration, and he replied, "The inspiration was in the form of a pressure constantly on me to commit the act."

Guiteau—That's all there is in the case, short and to the point. You can talk about it six years if you want to.

Dr. Gray continued his story for an hour when court adjourned.

Cost of the Guiteau Trial.

The total expenses of the Guiteau trial are estimated at $100,000 to $300,000. Porter and Davidge will probably get $25,000 each, the stenographer $10,000 to $15,000 and there will be about 200 witnesses and 25 experts. Witness fees and mileage are estimated at $30,000 to $50,000.

SENATOR HOAR'S ADDRESS.

His Eulogy on the late President James A. Garfield.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

WORCESTER, Dec. 30.—Senator Hoar to-night delivered an eulogy on Garfield. He said: "I should indulge myself in a strange delusion if I hoped to say anything of President Garfield which is not already well known to this country, or to add further honor to a name which the judgment of the world with marvelous unanimity has already assigned its place. The public's sorrow and love have found utterance if not adequate, yet such as speech, and silence, and funeral rites, and stately procession, prayers and tears could give. On the 26th day of September, the day of the funeral, a common feeling stirred mankind as never before in history. That mysterious law by which in one great audience every emotion is multiplied in each heart by sympathy with every other, laid its spell on universal humanity, a touch of which makes the whole world kin. All barriers of rank or party or state or nation disappeared. His own Ohio, the state of his birth and his burial; New England, from whose loins came the sturdy race from which he descended, whose college gave him his education, can claim no pre-eminence in sorrow. From the furthest south comes the voice of mourning for the soldier of the union. Over the fisherman's hut and front of seaman's cabin is spread a gloom, because the white house is desolate and the son of the poor widow is dead, and palace and castle are in tears. As the humble Campbellite disciple is borne to his long home the music of requiem fills the cathedral arches and domes of ancient synagogues. In the coffin of the canal boy, a queen lays her wreath. As his bier is lifted words come from beneath the sea that all nations of the earth are rising and bowing their heads. From many climes in many languages they join in the solemn service. This is no blind and sudden emotion, gathering and breaking like a wave. It is the mourning of mankind for a great character, already perfectly known and familiar. The history of the settlement of Massachusetts, central New York, and Ohio, is the history of the Garfield race. They were, to borrow a felicitous phrase, "Hungry for the horizon." They were the natural frontiersmen of the seven generations born in America. Including the president not one was born other than in a frontiersman dwelling. Two of them, father and son, came over with Winthrop, in 1630. Each of six generations who dwelt in Massachusetts has left an honorable record still preserved. Five in succession bore honorable military titles. Some were fighters in Indian wars. At the breaking out of the revolution the male representatives of the family were two young brothers, one of whose names descended to the president. One was in arms at Concord Bridge at sunrise of the 19th of April, 1775, and the other the president's great grandfather, dwelling 30 miles off, was on his way to the scene of action before noon. In 1831, James Garfield was born in a humble Ohio cabin, where he was left fatherless in his infancy. Blending with these, young Garfield inherited on the other side qualities of the Huguenots those gentle, but not less brave or less constant Puritans, who for conscience sake left their beloved and beautiful France, and who gave a lustre and a glory to every place and thing they touched. The child of such a race left fatherless in a wilderness, yet destined to such glory, was committed by providence to three great teachers, without either of whom he would not have become fitted for his distinguished career. These teachers were a wise christian mother, poverty, and a venerable college president who lived to watch his pupil through the whole of his varied life—to witness his inauguration amid such high hopes and lament his death. To no nobler matron did ever Roman hero trace his origin. Few traditions of his Puritan ancestry could have come down to the young orphan. It is said there were two things with which his mother was specially familiar—the bible and the rude ballads of the war of 1812. The child learned the bible at his mother's knee and love of country from his cradle hymns. From such a home came Webster, and Clay, and Lincoln and Jackson. Its no race of boors that has struck its axes into forests in this continent. These men knew how to build themselves of houses in the wilderness. They were more skillful still to build the constitution and statutes. Slow, cautious, conservative, sluggish and unready in ordinary life, their brains move quick and sure as the rifle's flash, when great controversies that determine the fate of states are to be decided, when great interests that brook no delay are at stake and great battles that admit no indecision are to be fought. I would not undervalue the material of which other republics have been built. Polished marbles of Greece and Italy have their own grace, but the art of nature contains no more exquisite beauty and color than that which this split and unhewn granite takes from the tempest. It withstands the storm of a childhood passed in poverty, of an intellect and moral nature trained in strenuous contests with adversity, is not unfamiliar to those who have read the lives of men who have been successful in this country in any of the walks of life. It is one of the most beneficent results of American institutions that we have ceased to speak of poverty and hardship and necessity for hard and humble toil as disadvantages to a spirit endowed by nature with capacity for generous ambitions. In society where labor is honorable, and where every place in social or public life is open to merit, early poverty is no more disadvantage than a gymnasium to an athlete or drill and discipline to a soldier.

It would have been hard to find in this county a man so well equipped by nature by experience and by training as was Garfield when he entered the Ohio senate in 1860, at the age of 28. He was in his own person a representative of the plainest type of the backwoods, and the best culture of the oldest eastern community. The gigantic scale on which the operations of our late war were conducted has dwarfed somewhat the achievements of individual actors. We must leave it to the soldiers and military history to assign their relative historical importance to the movements of the war, but we may safely trust the popular judgment which pronounces Garfield's ride at Chickamauga one of its most conspicuous instances of personal heroism, and the Kentucky campaign a most brilliant example of fertility of resources, combined with audacity and prudence, sound military judgment, and success against great odds. We may safely trust to the judgment of the accomplished historian who pronounces his report in favor of the advance that ended with the battle of Chickamauga, the ablest military document submitted by a chief of staff to his superior officer during the war. We accept, also, a word of Lincoln who made him major-general for his brilliant service at Chickamauga, and the confidence of Thomas, who offered him command of an army corps. Great as was his capacity for military service the judgment of Abraham Lincoln did not err when it summoned him to a field of labor where his greatest laurels were won. It is the fashion in some quarters to lament the decay of statesmanship and to make comparisons by no means complimentary between persons now entrusted with conduct of public affairs and their predecessors. How insignificant are the difficulties which beset the men of the preceding seven years compared with those which have crowded the seventeen which were to follow. How marvellous is the success the American people have achieved in dealing with those difficulties compared with that which attended the statesmanship of Webster, Clay, and Calhoun. Giants as they were, the greatness of these men is not likely to be undervalued anywhere, least of all in the masses, but the only important and permanent measure with which the name of Webster is connected is the Ashburton treaty, an achievement of diplomacy of little consequence in comparison with those which obtained from the great powers of Europe the relinquishment of the doctrine of perpetual allegiance, or with the Alabama treaty of 1871. Mr. Clay's life was identified with two great policies—protection of American industries, and a compromise between slavery and freedom in their strife for control of territories. Calhoun has left behind him the memory of a stainless life and great intellectual power, devoted to a lost cause. To each generation is committed its peculiar task. To these men it was given to wake the infant republic to a sense of its own great destiny, to teach it laws by which it must live or bear no life. To the men of our time abstract theories which were only debated in other days have come as practical realities, demanding prompt and final decision on questions where error is fatal. The limits of this discourse do not permit me to enter into detail of the variety and extent of his service in debate, in legislation and in discussion before the people. I could detain you until midnight were I to recount from my own memory the great actions of the twelve years that it was my privilege to share with him in the public service, for four of which I sat almost by his side. While charged with the duty of supervising the details of present legislation, he was always foreseeing and promising for the future. In the closing years of the war while chairman of the committee on military affairs, he was studying finance; and later he had prepared himself to deal with defects in the civil service. I do not think the legislation of the next 20 years will more than reach the ground which he had already occupied in his advanced thought. When Gen. Garfield took the oath of office as president he seemed to those who knew him best although in his 50th year, still in the prime of life of splendid and vigorous youth. He was still growing. We hoped for him eight years of brilliant administration, and then for some form or place of service in old age like that of Adams, whom in variety of equipment alone of our presidents he resembled. But he was called to a sublime destiny.

The honors paid to Garfield are the portents of a better age and a better generation against vulgar heroisms of the past. Go through their mausoleums and under their triumphal arches and see how the names inscribed there shrink and shrivel compared with that of this Christian soldier, whose chiefest virtues after all are of the fireside and family circle, and of a dying bed. Here the hero of America becomes the hero of humanity. Let us not boast at the funeral of our dead. Such a temper would be doubly offensive in the presence of such expressions of hearty sympathy from governments of every form; but we should be unfaithful to ourselves if in asking for this man a place in the world's gallery of illustrious names, we did not declare that we offer him as an example of the products of freedom. Is not that country worth dying for whose peasantry are of such a strain, and is not a constitution worth standing by, under whose Ægis freedom calls such men to her high places? Is not the union worth saving which gives all of this the property of a country such a name?"

The eulogy was delivered by Senator Hoar by invitation of the city council at Mechanics' hall, which was filled to overflowing. Mayor Kelly presided, and a distinguished audience was present.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

Wife Murderer Hung.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 30.—Wm. H. Erb, the German who murdered his wife, was executed this morning in the city jail in the presence of nearly 300 persons. He showed no signs of fear. His crime, committed June 19th, was the murder of Rose Aylon, a French washerwoman, at the washtub. He stabbed her in the back with a long knife and then walked leisurely away. He was soon arrested. She was his divorced wife. His drunkenness wrecked both lives.

Murder and Suicide.

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 30.—A horrible murder at Bentonville is that of E. on Bolen by his wife. She used a pistol. She claims he was a horse thief, had killed two men and threatened her life several times and drawn a knife on her. She has four children and took the youngest to jail with her. After being there three days she borrowed a knife on some pretence and cut her throat from ear to ear, severing the jugular vein.

A Negro Murdered.

VICKSBURG, Dec. 30.—Henry Grigsby (colored) while sitting at his fireside with his family last night, was killed. His assassin pushed a gun through a chink in the cabin, and blew Grigsby's head off. William Jennings is arrested for the crime.

To be Hung.

YAZOO CITY, Miss., Dec. 30.—Wm. Chivers, who murdered his wife, and Nicholas Colt, for the murder of his mother-in-law, are both sentenced to be hanged.

Another Murder.

TEXARKANA, Dec. 29.—Geo. Berry has shot and probably killed John Smith. Berry is a bad character and will probably be lynched.

An Embezzler Indicted.

KEOKUK, Dec. 29.—Herman Welsing, ex-treasurer of Lee county, has been indicted by the grand jury for embezzlement of county funds. Ten thousand dollars is the amount said to have been embezzled by him when treasurer of the county.

Another Mail Robbery.

GALVESTON, Dec. 29.—News' Gainesville special: Another large robbery occurred near the notorious Lick Hollow this evening and mail bags were rifled of valuable packages. The robbers are young lads.

Prisoners Caught.

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 30.—Five of the jail breakers are recaptured. Three murderers are still at large.

Another Cowboy Row.

DENVER, Dec. 30.—The Republican's Trinidad: This evening four cowboys attempted to run the town. Marshal Kroger interfered and the cowboys opened fire on him. He returned the fire, fatally wounding a cowboy named Brown and killing his horse. One cowboy was arrested. The two others escaped. The marshal was unhurt. The fight resulted from an old feud and a big drunk. Cowboys had threatened Kroger's life.

Forger Arrested.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 30.—Gottlieb Engelch, the young lawyer accused of various irregularities gave himself up to-day to the authorities. His arrest was on criminal complaint charging forgery.

THE NORTH CAROLINA RIOT.

Preparing for Immediate Action.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 30.—There are no further reports of violence from the riot at Plymouth, N. C., but there is still intense excitement and apprehension. Gov. Jarvis is on route thither, and has telegraphed the proper officers of this section to repair to the town and institute an immediate and thorough investigation. The services of the Pasquotank Rifles of Elizabeth City have been tendered and accepted to aid in suppressing the trouble. These and other military will arrive to-day.

Quelling the Plymouth Riot.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The Herald's special from Raleigh has the following details of the Plymouth riot, briefly mentioned in these dispatches: This morning the following telegram from Mayor Gaylord of Plymouth was received at the executive department here: There is an unprecedented riot in this town, and I am unable to suppress it by the civil authority of this county. I earnestly appeal to you to order several military companies to be here at the earliest time possible to suppress it. There are now 200 negroes here, all armed with guns and they are defying law all around. The latest news to-night is that the sheriff has been injured in one of the attacks by the mob and a negro killed. This rumor was not well authenticated. It is thought that troops arrived at the scene early in the evening and to-morrow important developments are expected. Gov. Jarvis may possibly go to Plymouth in person if special need should arise. Troops to the number of 500 from the eastern part of the state can be sent. The opinion expressed here to-night is that perhaps negroes may flock in from swamps and largely increase the forces of the rioters.

Troops Sent to Plymouth.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 30.—The Pasquotank Rifles of Elizabeth City were ordered to Plymouth by special steamer, and doubtless have reached there. The Edgetown Guards have gone from Tarboro. The military will be under command of Lieut. Col. Colton, of the 1st regiment of state troops. The rioters are thought to be from the immense shingle swamps in that section. Gov. Jarvis is at Greenville. No telegraph line to Plymouth.

RALEIGH, Dec. 30.—A dispatch to the News-Observer says troops have arrived at Plymouth. The sheriff yesterday, with armed men, restored quiet. Five arrests were made and the parties sent to Edenton to jail. Other arrests will follow. The murderer of Butler is still at large. No further trouble is anticipated. The governor has gone to Plymouth.

MEXICO.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 30.—Port Anton, Lizardi's Gulf, the terminus of the Mexican Southern railroad is opened for foreign and coasting trade.

Stage Robbery.

SONORA, Dec. 29.—The up bound stage from Milton was stopped, this afternoon, near Copperopolis, by one masked man. There were only two passengers, H. B. Cohen and an Italian lady named Madeline Cune. The highwayman made all get out. He produced a new hatchet, and ordered the driver to cut open the large express treasure box. This the driver refused to do. The robber then ripped open the mail sack and emptied the contents, but found nothing of value. Just then two men and a woman rode up. When the robber saw them he drew up his gun and ordered the stage driver to cut open the treasure box, saying "I know there is money in it." The driver said he would not, and said "shoot if you want to." The highwayman then beat a hasty retreat into the woods and escaped.

A Small Robbery.

To-day a man named Jenkins was stopped near Bell's mill, one and a half miles from here, by two men and robbed of $27. He says one man shot at him twice with a pistol before his horse stopped, one shot passing through his hat and one through his coat sleeve, grazing his arm.

BILLIARD TABLES.

SOF JACOB STRAHLE & CO'S BILLIARD TAbles provided with Delaney's Steel-Spring Cushions, have been placed in the Palace Hotel, and many more in other places in the city of San Francisco, lately, and the so-much blowed-up and self-superior Monarch Cushions on billiard tables removed. Every week we have to change Mushroom and replace Delaney Cushions instead. We do not warrant them to keep their power 20 years, but long enough to give satisfaction to anybody. The undersigned sells or rents all kinds of tables and sends goods to all parts of the Northwest at San Francisco prices.

SATURDAY MORNING, DEC. 31, 1881.

SHIPS AND COMMERCE.

The board of trade of San Francisco has been struggling with the problem of restoring American shipping. Its labors have culminated in a dozen suggestions, to be referred to congress and state legislatures for consideration. The first recommendation is that a bureau of commerce be created, with a cabinet officer at its head—the duties of the bureau to be analogous to those of the British board of trade, including the investigation of the needs of our maritime commerce and the recommendation to congress of such legislation as will favor its development. This is followed by the declaration that the taxation of shipping should be solely on net income, instead of on valuation as at present, and to effect this either state laws should be enacted similar to the Massachusetts law, now in force, or congress, under its constitutional power to regulate commerce, should legislate to control this subject. From this point the resolutions proceed to a demand for subsidies for first-class steamships, to the amount of four or five million dollars annually; but why the other industries of the country should be directly taxed to sustain a single industry against legislation unfavorable to its development which is upheld by selfish interests, the board does not explain. The next suggestion is, however, a rational one—though it will not be adopted. It is to the effect that all articles included in the construction, equipment and stores of American ships should have the duties remitted thereon, when taken out of bond or imported for this special purpose. We fancy we see the protectionists, who have congress firmly in their grip, making this concession! The iron monopolists, who find immense profits in forcing people, with the aid of the government, to pay high prices for iron in every form, will let go this advantage when the people elect a congress expressly on this issue, and they can hold on no longer. It suits the iron monopolists far better to furnish at high prices the materials for building only a dozen ships a year than to see five hundred a year built to accommodate the commerce of the country out of cheap materials imported free of duty. The efforts of the San Francisco board of trade in this direction may make some impression on the country, but they will make none at all on congress as now constituted. Protected monopoly will not allow it. Another suggestion may, however, be of more practical value. We quote: "Maritime pilotage should be regulated by the United States government through the bureau of commerce, the establishment of which forms our first recommendation. Under the constitution congress has the power and the duty assigned thereto of regulating all matters appertaining to commerce, and it should no longer neglect this duty. Political services should not have consideration and civil service reform should be applied in the employment of pilots." Congress might be induced to heed this suggestion. At all the principal ports pilotage ought to be under the direction of the United States, and in time will be. Such a measure would do away with a great many abuses and burdens. The general government is continually called upon to extend help to commerce. It could render very valuable aid, and at little cost, by adopting and acting upon this suggestion.

HOW HE ENJOYS IT.

Beyond all question or comparison the most completely self-satisfied man in America at this moment is Charles J. Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield. All his utterances—and they are shamefully frequent—show how keenly he enjoys the notoriety he has obtained. In his impudent "Christmas address to the American people" his keen satisfaction with himself, growing out of his opportunity to gratify his vanity, is conspicuous in every line. "My name," he says exultingly, "will go thundering down the ages." He is supremely satisfied because he is now in that full blaze of publicity which he has ardently longed for all his life. The cynosure of every eye; the center of attention for the whole nation, and indeed the whole civilized world; attended by escorts wherever he goes; every word he utters gathered carefully up, telegraphed to every newspaper and read by millions of people; the most notable persons in the land summoned to attend the trial; the judge permitting him to say what he will to everybody and giving him a freedom of talk and abuse that he never had before—what dream of happiness could a man with a diseased vanity have that would, if realized, fill a greater measure? "The case," the greatness of "the case," and the proper manner of conducting "the case" so as to get the greatest possible amount of sensation out of it, occupy his waking and sleeping thoughts. To fairly gloat over the idea that it is the most celebrated case in American jurisprudence, and hugs to himself the exultant thought that it will make his name immortal, as indeed it will—for nothing lasts longer in his word than the infamy of phenomenal wickedness. A poet says:

> The aspiring youth who fired the Ephesian dome
> Outlives in fame the pious fool that raised it.

Of course, Guiteau has qualms of terror, as every now and then he thinks of the possible end of all this. Still, his vanity, self-complacency and moral insensibility do not permit him to believe that he will actually be hanged. He even thinks he might now go at large with safety to himself. Yet it is apparent from his actions that he fears the gallows as a possibility, though his spasms of anxiety are but transient. He is too completely absorbed in the passion of his gratified egotism to think much of anything else whatever. And he will doubtless continue in his present state of bliss, making "speeches," browbeating witnesses and blackguarding everybody, to the end of the trial. That inevitable last scene of all at the gallows he would also enjoy, purely from love of notoriety, were he not a most craven-spirited wretch, in whom the common reptile's fear of death fills up the round measure of characteristic baseness. Not until he realizes that he is to be hanged will his insolence, bravado and complete satisfaction with himself forsake him. Then will this brazen fiend be transformed into a whining coward. Better than his loathsome exhibitions of vanity and delight, because less exhilarating to other cranks and moral monsters, would be the spectacle of his daily writhings under the treatment accorded to Ravaillac and Belthasar Gerard. That, at least, he and they would not enjoy.

NOT VERY HOPEFUL.

It is hard to get over deep-rooted prejudices, and therefore it is hard to believe that out of the democratic party can come any genuine interest in, much less desire for, civil service reform. Perhaps the fact that that party invented the spoils system and always practiced it is the groundwork of this distrust. But the party has been out of power for a very long time, and perhaps its newspapers and politicians are not so much opposed to civil service reform in itself as they are constitutionally incapable of understanding it. It is frequently observed that they loudly and with apparent sincerity applaud reform principles in abstract and general terms, yet immediately turn round and urge the violation of the same principles in particular cases, in seemingly perfect unconsciousness that they are guilty of any inconsistency.

But every person should be willing to yield to evidence. So when Senator Pendleton gets up in congress and urges a measure which he says will give present republican officeholders permanent positions and take away all incentive for democratic officeseekers to subscribe to expenses of the campaign of '84; and when various democratic newspapers commend Pendleton's sagacity, saying that while his proposition will be bad for democratic officeseekers it may be good for the democratic party, we may frankly say that it does look not only as if some democrats did understand and appreciate civil service reform, but were even willing to make some sacrifice to achieve it. We have nothing but praise for this kind of democracy. But we fear the party will not be able to get up an immense enthusiasm on this basis for '84. We think we know democratic "workers" even in Oregon to whom Mr. Pendleton's idea will look like a dreamy and profitless abstraction, or even worse, a cold and barren reality.

THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN, to appear to-morrow, will be the most complete and valuable paper ever published here. Besides the news and the usual features of a Sunday paper, it will contain an extended review of the resources, industries and commercial progress of Oregon and Washington territory, exhaustive articles on the leading products, with statistics thereof; accounts of railroad construction for the past year and of plans for next year's operations; tables showing the entire commerce of the year; an exhibit of the present state of manufacturing industry and the prospect of its future development, a complete chronological record of the events of the year; a detailed statement of building operations in Portland for the year 1881, with list of buildings erected and cost thereof; Oregon necrology, comprising an account of eminent persons or old pioneers who have died within the year, and a great variety of other matter. Copies may be had in any number wanted at the publication office.

Judge Jeremiah S. Black is credited with extensive pipe-laying for the democratic nomination for the presidency in 1884. His plan is to switch the party off on the anti-monopoly dodge. The basis of this movement, or rather, his method of turning it to his own behoof, was the publication of his elaborate political papers upon the necessity of organization against monopoly. Leagues in plenty, organized on the doctrines elaborated by him, have been formed in many states. A part of the play is also said to be his attack upon Ingersoll, which, it is expected, will strengthen him with the orthodox religious element. With these helps, the democratic nomination, he is supposed to think, would carry him into the White House. But Black is old, and a "programme" for gaining the presidency never wins.

Seed wheat is not so long-lived as supposed, and wheat growers will do well to pay some heed to the facts, that of seed gathered one year and sown the next about two grains in a hundred will fail to grow; if two years old, fifteen; if three years old, thirty to forty; if four years old, about ninety-five in every hundred. These figures are based on the supposition that the wheat is sound and has not been injured by a damp harvest. The stories about mummy wheat, etc., are all of one class and have no foundation, in fact when viewed from a botanical standpoint in this age of universal and perfect knowledge. Fresh and new seed is as essential as proper cultivation, to say the least.

Earnings of the Northern Pacific railroad for eleven months ending Nov. 30 were $3,610,246—a gain of $1,201,528, or fifty per cent. over the earnings of the corresponding months of last year. Extension of the road brings great increase of traffic.

"We do not," says the London Spectator, speaking of English annexation ideas, "want any more territories to reduce into a paying civilization."

Some doubt still exists as to the remainder of the cabinet appointments. Gen. Grant seems not to have made up his mind fully just yet.

The weekly journal published by John W. Forney—Progress—will be continued by his son, John W. Forney, Jr.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

A large proportion of Christian communions throughout the world are accustomed to observe the first week in January with religious exercises. Following is the program recommended by the executive committee of the World's Evangelical Alliance:

Sunday, Jan. 1.—Subject for discourse: "Renewed Consecration."

Monday, Jan. 2.—Thanksgiving for the blessings, temporal and spiritual, of the past year, and prayer for their continuance.

Tuesday, Jan. 3.—Humiliation and confession on account of individual, social and national sins.

Wednesday, Jan. 4.—Prayer for the blessing of God on His church and His word.

Thursday, Jan. 5.—Prayer for the young and all agencies for Christian training.

Friday, Jan. 6.—Prayer for the universal prevalence of peace and righteousness.

Saturday, Jan. 7.—Prayer for Christian missions, the outpouring of the holy spirit, and the conversion of the world.

The pastors of the several Methodist, Congregational, Baptist, Christian and Presbyterian Churches of this city have agreed upon union meetings at noon in the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association. Of other meetings the respective pastors will give notice.

GARRISON is a public benefactor, because he sells better Sewing Machines for less money than has ever been done in Portland before.

Young man, you have come to town to buy a present for your intended wife. Before buying nonsense go and examine those cheap Diamond Ear Rings at Uncle Myers', and make her happy, 181 First street.

Mme. Verdier, Third and Morrison streets, has now in stock a great variety of imported Lace goods besides fancy goods—all suitable for Christmas presents. Prices rule low. Good stamping done.

Don't go to J. H. Robbins & Son's on First street, between Salmon and Main, because you might be tempted to buy some of those new designs in ebonized brackets, frames, music racks, vases and a hundred and one other things which tend to beautify a home so much, at a trifling cost.

AT COST DURING HOLIDAYS.

In millinery goods, Mrs. A. E. West, Washington street, is offering during holidays the same at cost. The ladies will find this an excellent chance for bargains. Mrs. West has the sole agency for the Bazar Patterns, which are now quite popular. The assortment is great and all tastes can be satisfied.

Our Solid Gold jewelry department consists of the latest novelties.

In silver and silver-plated ware, spoons, forks, etc., our stock is large and well selected.

In CLOCKS we have a full assortment.

SPECTACLES, EYEGLASSES, and all articles connected with the optical line, our stock is complete. We have the only OPTIMETER (eyemeasurer) on the coast, and are enabled to test the strength or weakness of EACH EYE SEPARATELY, thereby enabling persons to obtain proper glasses who have heretofore found it difficult to be fitted.

In addition to above articles we have a complete and well selected stock of ROLLED GOLD JEWELRY. All dealers and merchants handling goods in our line will find it to their advantage to call on us when coming to the city, or send their orders, as we are enabled to supply them at the same rates, often lower than they can buy of jobbers and middlemen in the east and San Francisco. GOODS SENT ON SELECTION to parties known to us (charges to be paid by purchaser both ways) with privilege to return within a reasonable length of time. Goods sent per W. F. & Co., C. O. D., with the privilege to examine at express office, to any one, when charges both ways are deposited in W. F. & Co.'s office.

OREGON TO MASSACHUSETTS.

Some time ago, Messrs Hodge, Davis & Co., of this city, read in a Massachusetts paper that Hon. Charles R. Ladd, auditor of that state, was afflicted with an incurable kidney disease, and had been obliged to give up work and return to his home. They immediately sent him a box of their celebrated Oregon Kidney Tea, and from time to time sent him other boxes. A few days ago they received from him the following letter:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
Auditor's Dep't, Boston, Nov. 11, 1881.

Messrs. Hodge Davis & Co: DEAR SIRS—I have no hesitation in saying that I have been much benefited by the use of the Oregon Kidney Tea as a remedy for a kidney difficulty which has troubled me for six or eight years. I can heartily recommend it to those who are similarly afflicted, as a safe and agreeable remedy. I shall test its virtues further, for I have great faith in it as a specific for many diseases of the kidneys. Respectfully yours,

CHAS. R. LADD.

The original of this letter can be seen by calling on Messrs. Hodge Davis & Co., Portland, Oregon, and the Oregon Kidney Tea can be bought of any druggist or dealer, in Oregon or Washington. Price $1 per box.

Henry Villard has an ear for music as well as an eye to business, and after stepping in and seeing the beautiful new McCammon pianos and Whitney and Holmes organ, just arrived from the east at J. H. Robbins & Son's, 229 First street, pronounced it the finest display of musical instruments on this coast.

NEW MARKET THEATRE.

A crowded auditory greeted the ringing up of the curtain last night on the first performance of the "Willow Copse." This is one of the old style of domestic dramas which had nearly become obsolete until "Hazel Kirke" was brought out two years ago at the Madison Square Theatre in New York. But the "Willow Copse" has a better plot and finer language than "Hazel Kirke" ever began to have. All the other old dramas of the domestic school have died out except this one, which is the first dramatic work of Dion Boucicault. It was arranged for the debut of Mrs. F. W. Stechhan, who dressed the part in excellent taste and had her lines as perfect as a text book. Miss Abbie Pierce made an excellent "Meg" and Willie Sims was immense as Augustus. The fight for the will in the boozing ken, between him and Francout, created roars of applause. The Sir Richard of Mr. Doyle and the Colonel of Mr. Thompson, were cleverly done, but the feature of the performance was Mr. Sheridan's "Luke Fielding," in which he depicted the noble old Yorkshire farmer with wonderful power. His plain, gruff manners, all tempered with his love for his child; his deep resentment and vehement passion when he learns of her betrayal; his dementia at the realization of his wrongs; and his subsequent restoration to his home and his reason, all were rendered with the most wonderful fidelity to nature. Unfortunately Mr. Sheridan labored under the disadvantage of playing in a chilly theater with from fifteen to twenty men and women coughing with the influenza, whose united coughs drowned his voice, powerful as it undoubtedly was. And this same circumstance operated to the disadvantage of every other performer, notably the ladies. We want to see a new theater built, and built by some one who thinks a theater is worth taking proper care of. To-night the celebrated "Boarding House" comedy, in which Sheridan sustains the part of Floretti, the Italian boarder.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

Sixteen thousand dollars of Yamhill's state tax was paid over to the state treasurer last week.

Seventy two marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk of Clackamas county during 1881.

Mrs. H. L. Buck will assume the duties of matron of the Indian industrial school at Forest Grove the first of the year.

A petition for a mail route from Oregon City via Beaver creek, Howard's and Molalla to Soda springs, has been largely circulated in Clackamas county.

The bridge across Clear creek, Clackamas county, near Baker's ferry, has been completed by Mr. W. W. Strickin. The bridge is 13½ feet long, and cost $100.

William Morris, of Highland, has been arrested and now lies in jail awaiting examination for disturbing a public meeting at Highland on Christmas eve.

S. G. Reed has raised two cows on his farm in Yamhill county, the smaller, six years old, weighing 1600 pounds, and the largest, four years old, weighing 2700.

M. H. Miller formerly employed in the Oregon City pottery, in company with his brothers, is erecting a building on the old Lazarus Burns place, opposite that city, for the manufacture of terra cotta ware; the works will be run by steam. They intend to bring the clay from the vicinity of the farm of G. W. Walling, near Oswego. They have purchased the latest machinery, which with the fire brick is on the way, and expect to have everything in complete running order by the 1st of next April.

Oregon City Enterprise: The condition of the roads in this county is simply appalling. It is astonishing that any body could ever be found in Clackamas county to oppose the building of the Baker's ferry road or any other. The gentlemen who gave so largely of their time and money to get a road in the direction of Eagle creek, the last season, may smile broadly at the loudly-expressed regrets that it was not completed last fall. It would have been completed last fall but for want of wise co-operation on the part of the public most interested.

An Adventist church was recently organized on the Coquille with 15 members, under the auspices of Rev. Mr. Raymond.

The house of Wm. Johnson of Coos county, was recently burned, together with the entire contents. Chief among his loss was $400 in greenbacks.

The Coquille steamer Annie has been sold for $4000 and will be transferred to the Umpqua, as an opposition boat. Capt. Tom Floyd will take her around. An offer will now be made for one of the bay boats to supply the place of the Annie on the Coquille.

Coast Mail: Within the past few days several valuable timber claims in this vicinity have changed hands and negotiations are now pending for still further sales. James L. Ferrey of the Blanco hotel last Wednesday transferred to John Kruse, for the sum of $5000 his right and title to the timber on a quarter section of land. Kruse has twelve years in which to remove the timber, and at the expiration of that time the land, tramways, ditches and other improvements will revert to Ferrey. A. G. Aiken sold to Kruse for $4600, the timber on 260 acres of land located on the same section, and James Aiken has leased to Kruse his place and the right of way through it for thirteen years, for $500 per annum. D. L. Watson has transferred to A. Lobree, for $4500, his interest in between 700 and 800 acres of timber land on Isthmus slough. These changes indicate preparations for an active logging business in the interest of the purchasing parties.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Railroad Mileage of 1881.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—A railway publication says the year 1881 has been especially notable for the enormous extent and rapidity of railway construction in the United States. Track has been laid on 252 different lines and aggregates 9,242 miles—much the largest mileage in any one year, the largest previous mileage being 7,379, in 1872. Some returns yet to be received will probably swell the total to 9,850. The heaviest mileage was in Texas, 1411. Colorado had 495, Iowa 456, Dakota 420, Ohio 417½, New Mexico 355½, Indiana 375, Illinois 321, Michigan 289¼, Wisconsin 281, Washington territory 269½, Virginia 274¾, and other states less. In all forty-two states and territories figure in the table, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Indian territory and Utah only being left out.

Railroad Earnings.

During the past year the revenues of the Chicago and Northwestern have been $21,750,000 against $19,471,000 last year, and 414 miles of new road been built, making a total of 3,227 miles. The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific earned $12,500,000 against $11,700,000 last year. Snow blockades last winter and spring alone prevented much heavier earnings. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy earnings were $23,000,000, or $2,500,000 more than in 1880, and has spent $7,000,000 in construction, mostly building over 300 miles. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul earned $16,740,000 and has built 700 miles of new road. Statistics of other roads are not yet forwarded.

The New Triple Line.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The Missouri Pacific is out with posters announcing its new triple line to California through Texas. The line runs over the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain, Texas and Pacific, and Southern Pacific. Through coaches and sleepers will be run through with but one change at Deming, N. M. It is understood the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and Gould's southwestern lines have agreed upon uniform rates to competing points.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Three Trains Wrecked.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—At Christiana, on the Pennsylvania railroad this morning, a freight train parted and the following train ran into the rear portion, causing a general smash-up. Soon after came another freight train and ran into the wreck, when the whole mass took fire. Two men were burned to death and two or three injured badly, one beyond recovery. Another man is missing and supposed to be somewhere in the wreck. The authorities have sent to Lancaster for engines.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Dec 30.—After a week of most unseasonable weather, during which very little was done at the wharves of California ships, there has been more doing to-day than might have been expected at the close of the year, and both the McNeill and Reece have done a good business. It is doubtful whether either will be able to get off this month, as was anticipated. Rates for freight remain very steady, notwithstanding signs of coming quietness, and it is not likely there will be any decline. Tonnage is in meagre supply, still neither of the lines are pressed for ships, and are not pressing owners, who are disposed to be very firm in their views.

Railroad freights have been very quiet during the past week, although in the aggregate they have been very fair for the season. Shipments include 150 cases milk, 300 kegs herring, 140 cases canned goods, 838 pkgs tobacco, 10 bbls currants, 50 boxes raisins, 200 pails dates, 90 bags nuts, 20 cases oil, 15 bags coffee, 300 boxes soap, 25 bales oakum.

Isthmus freights are not very active and the steamer to-morrow will not have much of a cargo for California.

Markets are generally quiet. Wheat is lower, notwithstanding more favorable foreign dispatches. The limits of exporters were not increased, and beyond a few boat loads they did nothing.

Barley is more active and steady.

Provisions dull and nominal.

Rio coffee in fair demand and firmer.

Refined sugars firm.

Hides dull and a half lower.

Turpentine quiet and firm.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Dec. 30.—The stock of domestic wool on hand at close of the year is 1,907,000 pounds, and stock of foreign, 3,785,500 pounds. Sales of foreign and domestic during the past year amounted to 136,709,000 pounds. The market continued quiet and active, and prices well sustained. Sales of the week have been 3,700,000 pounds of all kinds. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania XXX and XX and above have been 43@45c; one small lot as high as high as 46c. Michigan fleeces have been selling at 42c; good average X fleeces from 42 to 43½. Combing and delaine fleeces are steady at 48@50 for choice selections. Considerable coarse, low and medium unwashed combing has been sold at 22@23½c. Unwashed wools have been in demand at 18@32c. Fine Ohio at 33@36c. Merchantable territory and Texas and other unwashed wools are at a wide range of prices. The demand for fall and spring is in good request. Sales at 45@52½c for choice and fancy supers; good at pars at 40@43c, and common supers at 35@38c. Montevideo wool has been selling more freely at 32@34c, and Australia at 40@41c, and considerable Mediterranean carpet at full prices.

San Francisco Wheat Shipments.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—There has been but little business transacted during the past week owing to interruption caused by the holidays and no change in the situation occurred. The few charters made show that to fix a ship for Liverpool direct concessions must be made, while continental options command full rates. At the close it is rumored that one or more vessels have been taken up at full figures but nothing definite can be learned. Arrivals since the last report have been numerous, increasing the disengaged list from 14,478 to 24,595 tons, and also adding considerable tonnage to the wheat list which, however, has been more than offset by clearances. The month now nearly closed will be surpassed only by November in the amount of wheat exported and will fall but little short of that month, while the exports from July 1 to January 1 will far exceed any similar period in the past history of the state.

Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 30.—A leading grain circular says wheat is gradually becoming firmer. All branches of trade is improving. Most of spot markets were dearer, some a shilling better. On cargoes off coast there is some advance. Other cargoes are firmly held on spot since Tuesday. Wheat is in better demand and advanced a penny. Corn is dearer. In to-day's market there was an average attendance. Wheat advanced a penny. Flour is in good request and sometimes three pence higher. Corn advanced a penny.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Wheat—Weak, lower, $1 27⅜; cash, $1 27½; January, $1 28¾.

Gold and Stock Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.

Receipts—Wheat—150,000 ctls., including 142,000 aboard ship; flour, 11,500 qr sks; potatoes, 3500 sks

CHARTERED.

Wheat—There is a good demand and market firm. $1 65 bid for No. 1 shipping. Sales of fair milling at $1 62½; extra choice milling, $1 67½.

Barley—The market is strong for feed. Sales coast feed, $1 55@1 60. Good coast feed quotable $1 57½.

Oats—Sellers are raising their pretentions, $1 72½@1 80 asked for feed. No sales reported.

Potatoes—Market is quiet at 90c@$1 10 for Garnet Chile.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.—Advance.

Hub Punch is composed of the finest liquors and most exquisite fruit juices. In winter or summer with hot water or milk as toddy, or with ice, soda, etc., this is par excellence, the favorite; keep it on hand. Sold by all Grocers, Wine Merchants and Druggists. THE

KING FORTUNE-MAKER,

OZONE!

A NEW PROCESS FOR PRESERVING

All Perishable Articles, Animal and Vegetable, from Fermentation and Putrefaction, Retaining their Odor and Flavor.

"OZONE—Purified air, active state of oxygen."—Webster.

This preservative is not a liquid, pickle, or any of the old and exploded processes, but is simply and purely OZONE, as produced and applied by an entirely new process. Ozone is the antiseptic principle of every substance, and possesses the power to preserve animal and vegetable structures from decay.

There is nothing on the face of the earth liable to decay or spoil which Ozone, the new Preservative, will not preserve for all time in a perfectly fresh and palatable condition.

The value of Ozone as a natural preserver has been known to our abler chemists for years, but, until now, no means of producing it in a practical, inexpensive and simple manner have been discovered.

Microscopic observations prove that decay is due to septic matter or minute germs, that develop and feed upon animal and vegetable structures. Ozone, applied by the Prentiss method seizes and destroys these germs at once, and thus preserves. At our offices in Cincinnati can be seen almost every article that can be thought of, preserved by this process, and every visitor is welcome to come in, taste, smell, take away with him, and test in every way the merits of Ozone as a preservative. We will also preserve, free of charge, any article that is brought or sent prepaid to us, and return it to the sender, for him to keep and test.

FRESH MEATS, such as beef, mutton, veal, pork, poultry, game, fish, etc., preserved by this method, can be shipped to Europe, subjected to atmospheric changes, and return to this country in a state of perfect preservation.

EGGS can be treated at a cost of less than one dollar a thousand dozen, and be kept in an ordinary room six months or more, thoroughly preserved—the yelk held in its normal condition, and the eggs as fresh and perfect as on the day they were treated, and will sell as strictly "choice." The advantage in preserving eggs is readily seen; there are seasons when they can be bought for eight or ten cents a dozen, and by holding them, can be sold for an advance of from one hundred to three hundred per cent. One man, with this method, can preserve 5,000 dozen a day.

FRUITS may be permitted to ripen in their native climate, and can be transported to any part of the world.

The juice expressed from fruits can be held for an indefinite period without fermentation—hence the great value of this process for producing a temperance beverage. Cider can be held perfectly sweet for any length of time.

VEGETABLES can be kept for an indefinite period in their natural condition, retaining their odor and flavor, treated in their original packages, at a small expense. All grains, flour, meal, etc., are held in their normal condition.

BUTTER, after being treated by this process, will not become rancid.

DEAD HUMAN BODIES, treated before decomposition sets in, can be held in a natural condition for weeks, without puncturing the skin or mutilating the body in any way. Hence the great value of Ozone to undertakers.

There is no change in the slightest particular in the appearance of any article thus preserved, and no trace of any foreign or unnatural odor or taste.

The process is so simple that a child can operate it as well and as successfully as a man. There is no expensive apparatus or machinery required.

A room filled with different articles, such as eggs, meat, fish, etc., can be treated at one time, without additional trouble or expense.

In fact, there is nothing that Ozone will not preserve. Think of everything you can that is liable to sour, decay, or spoil, and then remember that we guarantee that Ozone will preserve it in exactly the condition you want it for any length of time. If you will remember this, it will save asking questions as to whether Ozone will preserve this or that article—it will preserve anything and every thing you can think of.

There is not a township in the United States in which a live man cannot make any amount of money, from $1,000 to $10,000 a year, that he pleases. We desire to get a live man interested in each county in the United States, in whose hands we can place this Preservative, and through him secure the business which every county ought to produce.

A FORTUNE AWAITS ANY MAN who secures control of OZONE in any Township or County.

A. C. BOWEN, Marion, Ohio, has cleared $2,000 in two months. Two dollars for a test package was his first investment.

WOODS BROTHERS, Lebanon, Warren county, Ohio, made $6,000 on eggs purchased in August and sold November 1st. Two dollars for a test package was their first investment.

F. K. RAYMOND, Morristown, Belmont county, Ohio, is clearing $2,000 a month in handling and selling Ozone. Two dollars for a test package was his first investment.

D. F. WEBBER, Charlotte, Eaton county, Mich., has cleared $1,000 a month since August. Two dollars for a test package was his first investment.

J. B. GAYLORD, 80 La Salle street, Chicago, is preserving eggs, fruit, etc. for the commission men of Chicago, charging 1c per dozen for eggs, and other articles in proportion. He is preserving 5,000 dozen eggs per day, and on his business is making $3,000 a month clear. Two dollars for a test package was his first investment.

THE CINCINNATI FEED CO., 498 West Seventh street, is making $5,000 a month in handling brewers' malt, preserving and shipping it as feed to all parts of the country. Malt unpreserved sours in twenty-four hours; preserved by Ozone, it keeps perfectly sweet for months.

These are instances which we have asked the privilege of publishing. There are scores of others. Write to any of the above parties and get the evidence direct.

Now, to prove the absolute truth of everything we have said in this paper, we propose to place in your hands the means of proving for yourself that we have not claimed half enough. To any person who doubts any of these statements, and who is interested sufficiently to make the trip, we will pay all traveling and hotel expenses for a visit to this city, if we fail to prove any statement we have made.

HOW TO SECURE A FORTUNE WITH OZONE.

A test package of Ozone, containing a sufficient quantity to preserve one thousand dozen eggs, or other articles in proportion, will be sent to any applicant on receipt of $2. This package will enable the applicant to pursue any line of tests and experiments he desires, and thus satisfy himself as to the extraordinary merits of Ozone as a preservative. After having thus satisfied himself, and had time to look the field over to determine what he wishes to do in the future—whether to sell the article to others, or to continue it to his own use, or any other line of policy which is best suited to him and to his township or county—we will enter into an arrangement with him that will make a fortune for him, and give us good profits. We will give exclusive township or county privileges to the first responsible applicant who orders a test package and desires to control the business in his locality. The man who secures control of Ozone for any special territory will enjoy a monopoly which will surely enrich him.

Don't let a day pass until you have ordered a Test Package, and if you desire to secure an exclusive privilege we assure you that delay may deprive you of it, for the applications come in to us by scores every mail—many by telegraph. "First come first served" is our rule.

If you do not care to send money in advance for the test package we will send it C. O. D., but this will put you to the expense of charges for return of money. Our correspondence is very large; we have all we can do to attend to the shipping of orders and giving attention to our working agents. Therefore we cannot give any attention to letters which do not order Ozone. If you think of any article that you are doubtful about Ozone preserving, remember we guarantee that it will preserve it, no matter what it is.

REFERENCES:

We desire to call your attention to a class of references which no enterprise or firm based on anything but the soundest business success and highest commercial merit could secure.

We refer by permission as to our integrity and to the value of the Prentiss Preservative, to the following gentlemen: Edward C. Boyce, Member Board of Public Works; E. O. Eshelby, City Comptroller; Amor Smith, Jr., Collector Internal Revenue; Wulsin & Worthington, Attorneys; Martin H. Harrell and B. E. Hopkins, County Commissioners; W. S. Cappeller, County Auditor; all of Cincinnati, Hamilton County, Ohio. These gentlemen are each familiar with the merits of our Preservative, and know from actual observation that we have without question [illegible].

The Most Valuable Article in the World.

The $2 you invest in a test package will surely lead you to secure a township or county, and then your way is absolutely clear to make from $2000 to $10,000 a year.
